

Foodie's Fantasy Facial

Gorgeous gourmet gals go gaga over Juara's nutrition solutions for problem complexions. Combat wintertime dry skin with Avocado & Banana Mask, high in natural sterols and skin-fortifying minerals. For those with oily skin, the invigorating Lime Puree & Cucumber Clarifying Mask minimizes pores while breaking down accumulated oils. $35, www.juaraskincare.com

Loaded With Love

Shunning negativity, and only using ingredients she can pronounce, Lisa Price of Carol's Daughter's handmade body products says, "We cook with love and pour that love into our jars." Feel that love when you lather on Bubblegum Body Cleansing Gel, loaded with antibacterial tea-tree oil and emanating a scent that's sure to bring out your inner child. $6, www.carolsdaughter.com

Blood Orange for Breakfast

Vibrant and dramatic, Red Flower's Italian Blood Orange Moisturizing Body Lotion evokes the drama of Sicilian holiday traditions. Bright, citrus-y, and with just a hint of raspberry, this vitamin-C powerhouse lotion naturally exfoliates and stimulates. With honey to fight bacteria and tomato leaf to detoxify, this botanical-based, flower-infused concoction is a gift to your skin. $22, www.redflower.com

The Man of Your Dreams

You can catch this one—he's the gingerbread man and he's all about the holidays. Philosophy's whimsical fellow celebrates the spice of the season with a trio of gingery, mouth-watering treats: spicy, effervescent bubble bath, batter-like body soufflé, and flavored lip balm, all redolent with the aroma of grandmother's kitchen. Yummy! $18, www.philosophy.com philosophy®: i love the muffin man because he loves me just the way i am. it all started on the day he baked me delicious lemon custard muffins. (he bakes!) i ate one and thought i'd died and gone to heaven but what really got to me was when he insisted on hand feeding me a second muffin. i said "i worry about my weight", he said "i worry about your happiness". "enjoy yourself darling".
